PROJECT DETAILS

Notes-MarketPlace

- I had created a web application in which students of various professions from around the country can sell and buy notes and old textbooks, and handwritten notes for any specific category.
- Implemented in html, css, javascript,bootstrap,jquery,asp.net and used SQL Server for database.

Employee Management System

- Made a website to maintain employees personal details and their work details.
- Implemented in django and front end languages and used MySQL for database.

House Price Prediction

- I had created a regression model with a good accuracy that predict a house price on basis of input features.

Location Display System

- used the google geocoding API to retrieve data and used google map to visualize data.
- I had used python, html, css, javascript languages and SQLite for database.
